Dedication

Dr. Rance Henderson has studied and worked in the field of deaf education in North Carolina, California, Oregon, and Illinois. He has gained many years of valuable experience and education in teaching, coaching, and supervising programs for hearing impaired students. As Superintendent of the N.C. School for the Deaf, Dr. Henderson's primary goal has been to promote an academic and social environment that facilitates student growth under the direction of a high quality staff, including a large number of hearing impaired role models.

We, the Class of '89, would like to show our appreciation to Dr. Henderson for all that he has done to ensure that NCSD is recognized throughout the United States as one of the very best schools for the deaf. In addition, we, "The Spirit of '89", would like to thank Dr. Henderson for his confidence, trust, and respect. For these reasons and many others too numerous to mention, we hereby dedicate the 1988-1989 edition of the Clock Tower to him. May our shared sense of pride of N.C. School for the Deaf be evident thoughout these pages.

Superintendent

Dear Members of the NCSD Class of 1989:

Most people around NCSD feel that this has been a good school year. Different people give different reasons but everybody mentions your class and its remarkable qualities.

Classes come and go. Occasionally, we have a class which is a true joy to work with. Yours has been that kind of class. Your pleasant personalities, eagerness to learn and grow, zest for living and sensitivity to others have served you well. Hold on to those qualities and success will be yours!

Sincerely,

Rance Henderson
